Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 22-34,36-38,42,43,45,46,48-53 and 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Blach et al-6352548.

Blach et al.(a different inventive entity) discloses the same device and method as that claimed by the applicant. The rejected claims are not afforded the filing date of the parent case given the fact that the parent did not disclose the particulars of the use of the device to treat the specific maladies included in the above claims.

Claims 22-29,36-38,42-46 and 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stratton-6228101.

Stratton discloses the use of a nasal dilator on a horse to restrict the collapsing of the nasal passages during labored breathing. The rejected claims are not afforded the filing date of the parent case given the fact that the parent did not disclose the particulars of the use of the device to treat the specific maladies included in the above claims.

Claim 37 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Derksen-6228037.

Derksen discloses a rod 14 taped to the nose of a horse. The tape spans the bridge of the horses nose. The rod and tape would inherently support the nasal passages.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 36,38 and 42-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Derksen-'037.

Art Unit: 3761

Derksen discloses the method as claimed with the exception that the device when used treats EIPH or that the horse used is susceptible to EIPH. Since the device of Derksen is used on a horse while exercising, it seems obvious that at some point in time a horse susceptible to EIPH (of which nearly all horses experience to some degree) would be tested using that device of Derksen, in which inherently the tape and rod would provide support to the nasal tissues and therefore inherently treat or reduce EIPH.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 35,39-41 and 54 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejected claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
